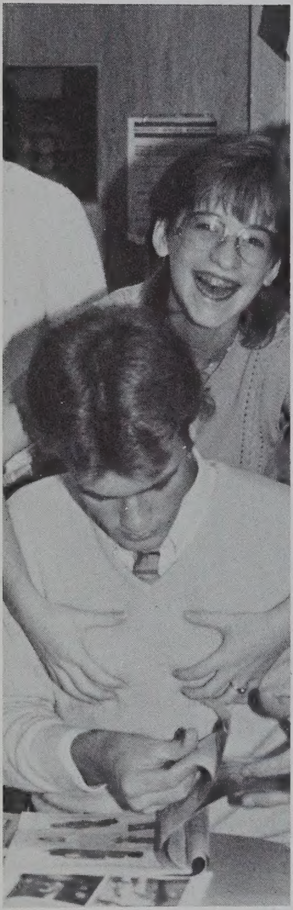
Memories Between The Pages



MEMORIES . . .

Football games and pizza, tardy bells (late again!), those gourmet school lunches, being rained on at the bus stop, that ever-interrupting P.A. system, sweating out exams, to study or not to study?, quiet conversations with some one special, teachers' dirty looks, blackboards filled from the chalk tray on up, long-awaited Fridays, and weekend parties. These are all memories that Cradock Admirals share.

From the beginning of the school year, Cradock spirit and enthusiasm was filled by football games, the high school band, homecoming week, pep rallies, and an unique sense of unity that could be felt throughout the school.

As cold weather approached, the Varsity basketball team warmed the air with their fancy dribbles, jump shots, and close calls.

Christmas spirit and the warmth of a child's smile at the Christmas party marked the midpoint of another memorable year.

January was no friend with its mid-term exams, midnight snacks, and all-night study sessions. The students welcomed the beginning of a new semester.

With basketball season at an end, spring flowers and warm days met with baseball, softball, and track. Students sported new spring fashions — Is there really light at the end of the tunnel?

May's highlight was the Junior-Senior Prom, not to be outdone by June's exams. Graduation was at hand and another chapter of Cradock memories has been written.

The Nineteen hundred and eighty-five Admiral Staff worked diligently to capture these and other special memories forever locked between these pages.

The '85 Admiral Is Proudly Dedicated To Coach Bob Parker

Coach Bob Parker is an asset to the faculty of Cradock High School. His experience in and expertise of football is evident in this years football team. His enthusiasm was reflected in the rise of school spirit felt throughout the student body. Coach Parker, through his hard work and dedication, was chosen as this years recipient of the '85 Admiral dedication.

Besides spending many hours on the football field, Coach Parker teaches Health and Physical Education and once sponsored the Weight-Lifting and Monogram Clubs. He is a native of Portsmouth, Virginia and is a graduate of Cradock High School. He is married to Peggy Parker and has two daughters.

The Annual Staff and entire school body is proud to salute Coach Parker with this year's dedication of the Cradock Admiral.

Meet Cradock's

School administrators perform many varied and necessary tasks in the course of each day. They dutifully attend P.T.A. meetings, sporting events, and school plays and pageants. We at Cradock are lucky to have such a devoted administration. The responsibility for the smooth operation of Cradock is the duty of Mr. Raymond Hale. Dr. Theodore Owens handles any crisis that arises with the eighth and ninth grade classes. Mr. David Joyner supervises and disciplines students in grades ten through twelve. Without the help of these able men, school life would be quite chaotic.

Mr. Hale attended Roanoke Rapids High School in North Carolina. He received a B.S. degree from Atlantic Christian College in North Carolina and a Masters Degree in Administration from the University of Virginia. Mr. Hale enjoys fishing, tennis, and going to his beach cottage in Nags Head, North Carolina.

Dr. T.W. Owens, Jr. attended Armstrong High School in Richmond, Va. He received a B.S. degree in Biology and Chemistry from Va. State University. His M.S. degree in Science was received from Va. State University and a Certificate of Advanced Studies from VPI in Supervision and Instruction. Dr. Owens received his Ed.D in Education from VPI. Reading, traveling, and educational research are a few things he enjoys in his spare time. He admires his father very much because he obtained much encouragement and support from him as he climbed the educational ladder.

Mr. Joyner graduated from Murfreesboro High School in North Carolina. He received an A.A. degree from Chowan College in Pre-Engineering and a B.S. degree in Mathematics. He furthered his schooling at the University of Va. with a M.Ed degree in Mathematics Education. Mr. Joyner enjoys fishing, tennis, hunting, and antiques. His math instructors in high school and college made math interesting and intriguing and inspired him to acquire a degree in mathematics.

Hard-Working Administration

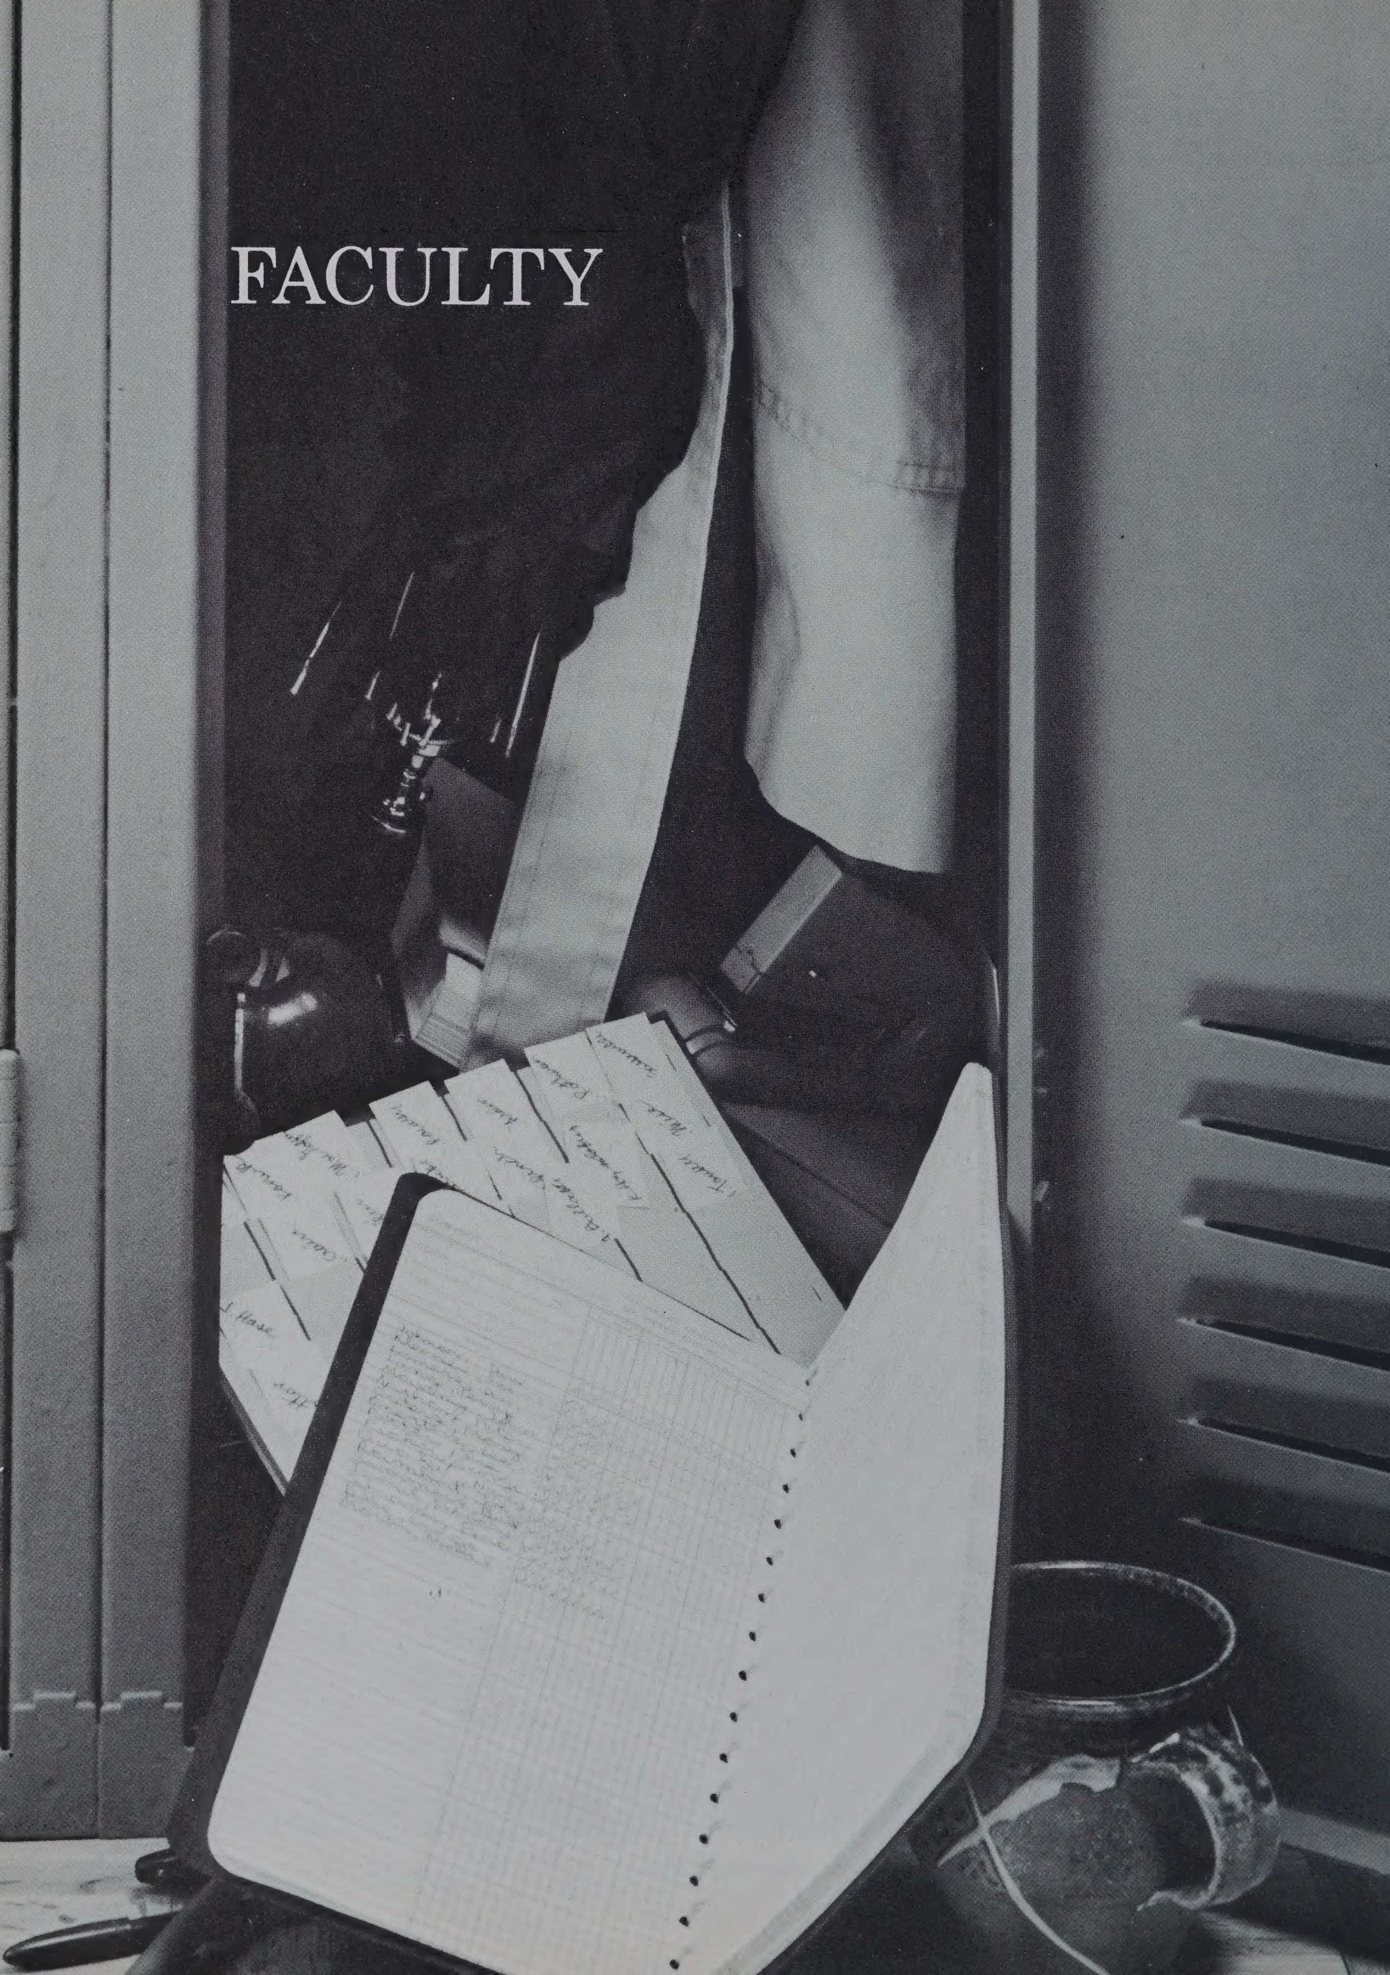
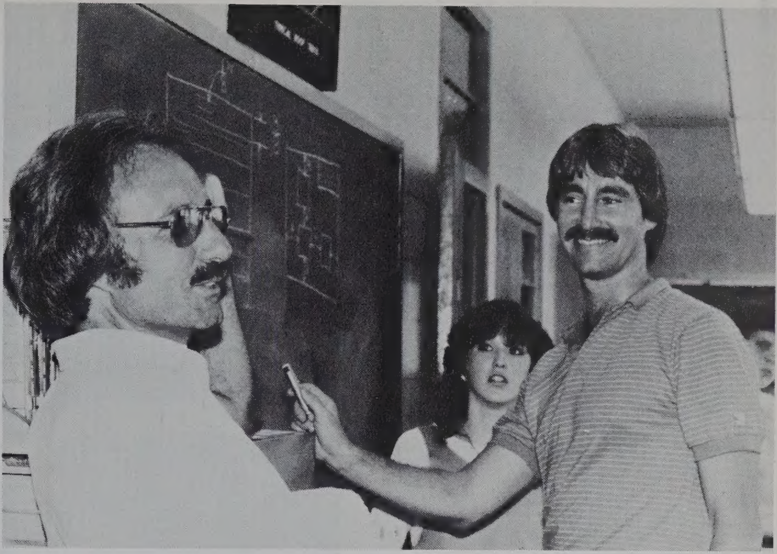
The end of another Friday!

FACULTY



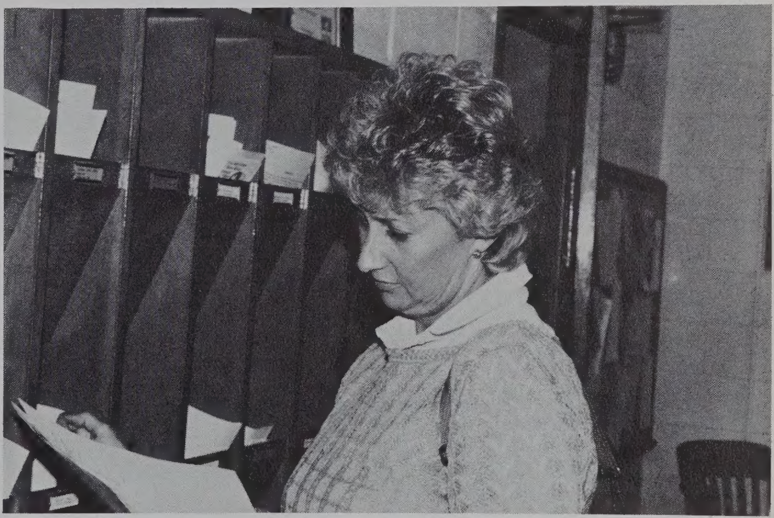
Mr. Perry strikes a pose for Gentleman's Quarterly.



The faculty at Cradock High School is a nice collection of diverse backgrounds and expertise. They do a superb job of educating our Cradock students. Many give much of their free time to school projects, such as helping to sell tickets for football, basketball, and wrestling functions. Others give blood at our annual blood drive, chaperon school dances, and stay back after school tutoring students who are having difficulty in a subject.

Cradock is fortunate to have such a fine group of men and women dedicated to educational excellence.

At least I can get somebody's attention!



Oh Great, . . . another memo.

For this they added fifteen minutes to every day?!

Senior Class Officers — President, Kim Shreaves, Vice-President, Terri Whitehead, Secretary, Kecia Carver, Treasurer, Nathaniel Kemp

For the class of '85, their senior year held many special memories. They made the most of every event knowing it was their last year. At pep rallies and football games, Seniors cheered loudly and won the spirit stick during many of the pep rallies. Seniors continued showing their spirited support throughout the basketball, wrestling, and spring sport seasons.

Seniors also supported such events as the Children's Christmas Party and the Miss Cradock Pageant. Many special senior events were held during the year. They took their annual spring trip, wrote amusing "last wills and testaments," and presented the school with a series of zany skits in the senior assembly. Perhaps the most memorable event was the senior prom and graduation. Graduation signaled the end of the twelve years of school ano marked the beginning of a new life.

The Class of 1985 was guided under the leadership of Miss Geraldine Adams. The seniors salute Miss Adams on a job well done!

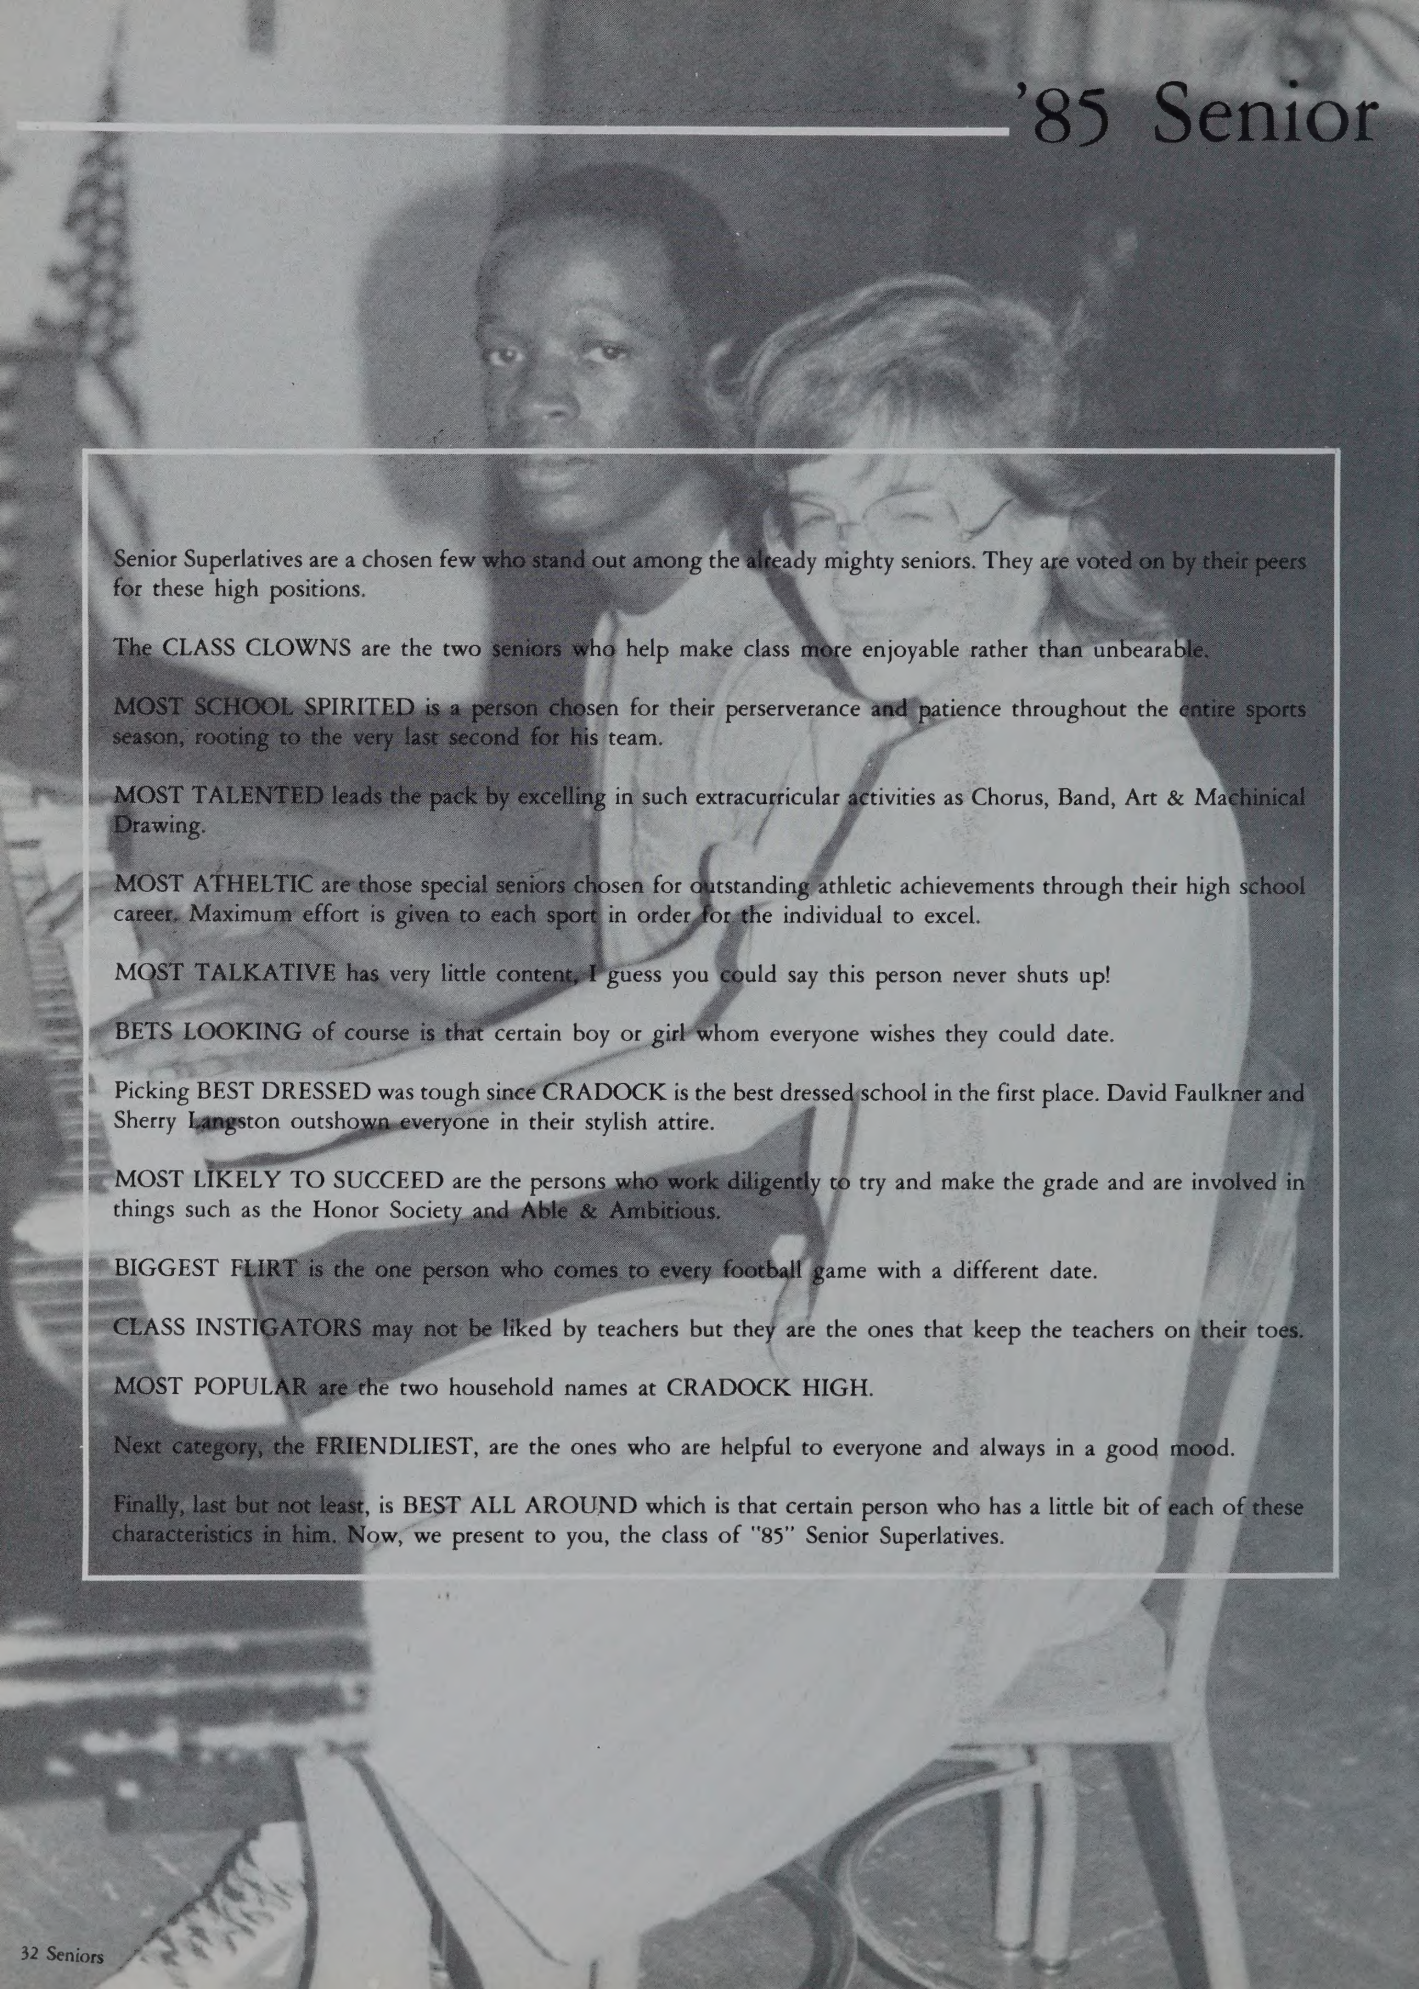
'85 Senior



Senior Superlatives are a chosen few who stand out among the already mighty seniors. They are voted on by their peers for these high positions.

The CLASS CLOWNS are the two seniors who help make class more enjoyable rather than unbearable.

MOST SCHOOL SPIRITED is a person chosen for their perserverance and patience throughout the entire sports season, rooting to the very last second for his team.

MOST TALENTED leads the pack by excelling in such extracurricular activities as Chorus, Band, Art & Machinical Drawing.

MOST ATHELTIC are those special seniors chosen for outstanding athletic achievements through their high school career. Maximum effort is given to each sport in order for the individual to excel.

MOST TALKATIVE has very little content, I guess you could say this person never shuts up!

BETS LOOKING of course is that certain boy or girl whom everyone wishes they could date.

Picking BEST DRESSED was tough since CRADOCK is the best dressed school in the first place. David Faulkner and Sherry Langston outshown everyone in their stylish attire.

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED are the persons who work diligently to try and make the grade and are involved in things such as the Honor Society and Able & Ambitious.

BIGGEST FLIRT is the one person who comes to every football game with a different date.

CLASS INSTIGATORS may not be liked by teachers but they are the ones that keep the teachers on their toes.

MOST POPULAR are the two household names at CRADOCK HIGH.

Next category, the FRIENDLIEST, are the ones who are helpful to everyone and always in a good mood.

Finally, last but not least, is BEST ALL AROUND which is that certain person who has a little bit of each of these characteristics in him. Now, we present to you, the class of "85" Senior Superlatives.

Superlatives

Most Popular
Terri Whitehead and Ding Cutchins
"Popularity is one treasure no robber can touch."

Best Dressed
Sherry Langston and David Faulkner
"Dress for Success."

Class Clown
Kecia Herbert and Smithy Hill
"Good humor makes all things tolerable."

Extravagent

Most Athletic
Bertha Warren and Keith Story
"The best of the sport is to do the deed and say nothing."

Most Talented
Mary Beth Gray and Gerald Ruffin
"Genius does what it must, talent does what it can."

Tallest — Antonio Trusty
Shortest — JoAnn Morgan
"Size makes no difference."

Most School Spirited
Terri Rodgers and George Branch
"Welcome is the best cheer."

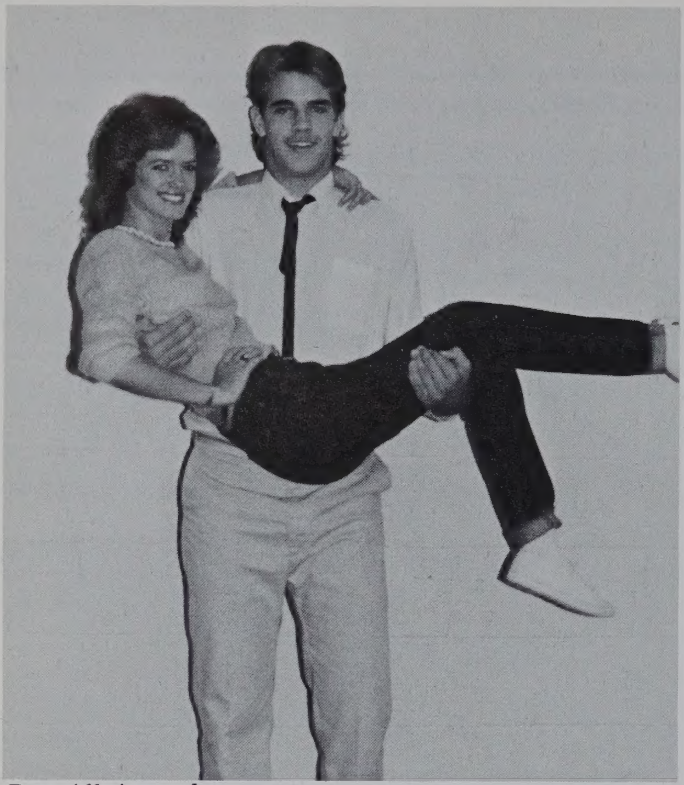
Seniors

Most Dependable
Gidget Cline and David Stafford
"To be trusted is much greater than to be loved."

Best Looking
Brenda Ganzemuller and Malcolm Gatlin
"Beauty is a gift that nothing can compare to."

Most Likely to Succeed
Leisha Butler and Jesse Warrick
"Little boats must keep the shore, larger boats may venture more."

Most Talkative
Rona Evans and Steve Detwiler
"A closed mouth catches no flies."



Best All Around
Kim Shreaves and Johnny Shackle
"Knowledge begets humility; humility produces worthiness; worthiness encourages wealth; wealth sustains religion; and all together they create happiness."

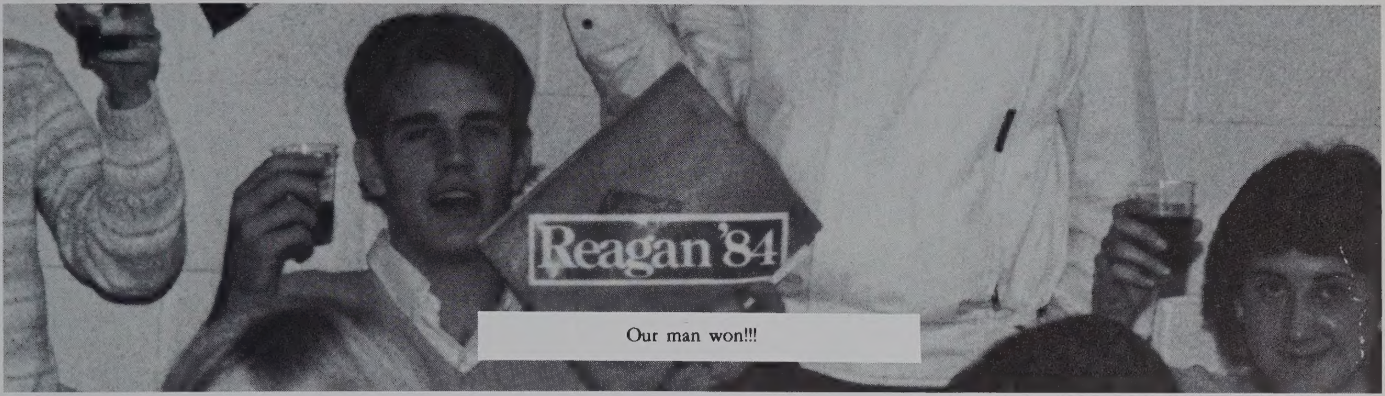
Cradock Conducts A Mock Election



Our man won!!!

Mrs. Trueblood's first period excelerated government class held a school-wide mock presidential and senatorial election on Monday, November 5, 1984. Each student was given issues to argue over the P.A. system each morning and each made pro-Reagan or pro-Mondale posters, dependent upon their political preference. As it turned out, Mrs. Trueblood was outnumbered in the class, 8 to 1, she being the only Mondale supporter! A week prior to the election, a poll was taken and Walter Mondale was the clear-cut victor. However, polls can be deceiving!!! On election day at Cradock, the Republicans swept the election. Though close, Ronald Reagan beat out Walter Mondale by a 2% margin. Republican John Warner badly defeated the Democrat challenger Edith Harrison for the U.S. Senate seat, 78% to 22%.

The day following the mock election the class celebrated with a victory party. All in all, this was a very successful and educational experience.

Spirit Is . . .

Spirit Week at Cradock High School was the week of October 8-12. The students, faculty, and administrators showed their school spirit by participating in spirit week. Monday was Twins Day, Tuesday was Fifties Day, Wednesday, Dress to Impress Day, Thursday, Multi-Colors Day, and Friday was School Colors Day. There was an array of colors, costumes, and enthusiasm.

Homerooms showed their overall spirit by competing with one another to build the longest spirit chain. Mrs. Downing and her homeroom won with 803 links. The total length of the spirit chain was 6,100 links which is over one mile long.

Spirit was high as students gathered in the gymnasium for Friday's Pep Rally. Students cheered the football players on in preparation of Friday night's big game against the Churchland Truckers. The Seniors showed the most spirit by winning the Spirit Stick.

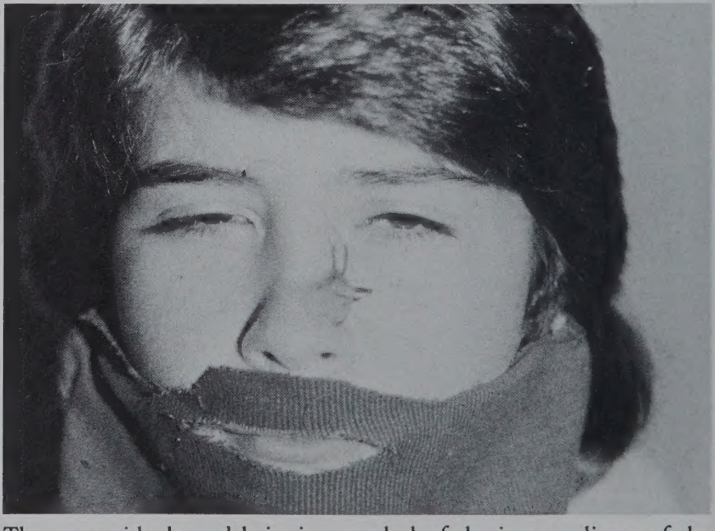
Medieval Cradock

Literature is a big part of the senior year as is evidenced by the students' portrayal of the pilgrims in Chaucer's Canterbury Tales. These characters from Mrs. Hampton's senior classes show what it might have been like to take a senior trip during the Middle Ages. Can you imagine traveling 60 miles on foot with these unusual people as your companions?

The wife of Bath, Kim Shreaves, is looking for a sixth husband, the Franklin, Jennifer Prince.

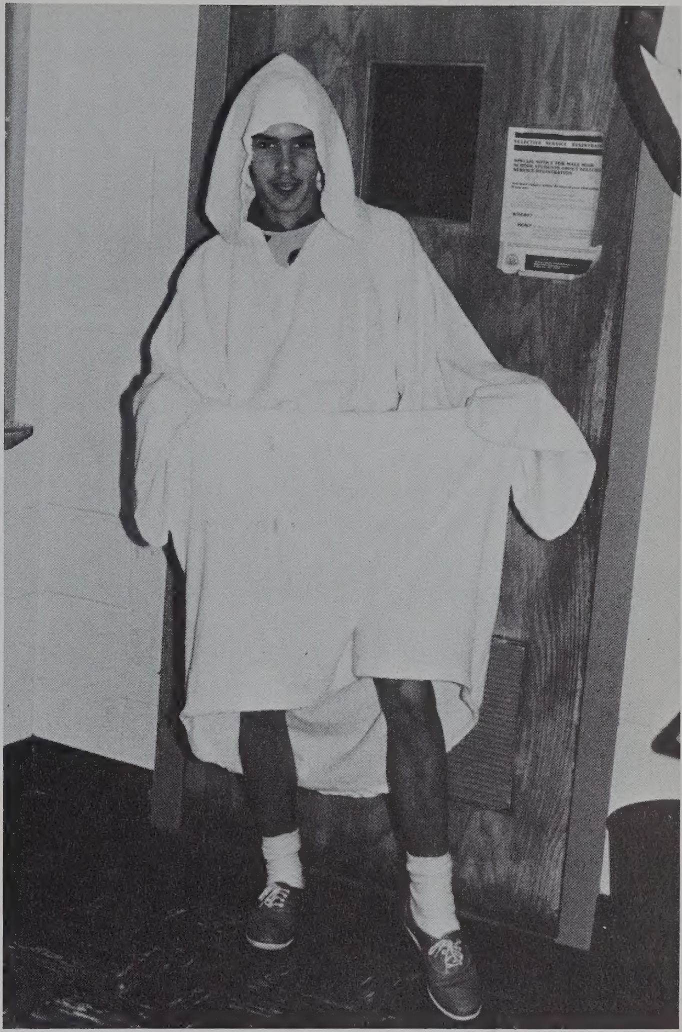
Tasting food prepared by Jennifer Prince, the cook, are travelers Mary Beth Gray, Pam Whitley, and Deanna Harrell.

The burly Miller, Deanna Harrell, uses brute strength to keep the host, Mary Beth Gray, in line.

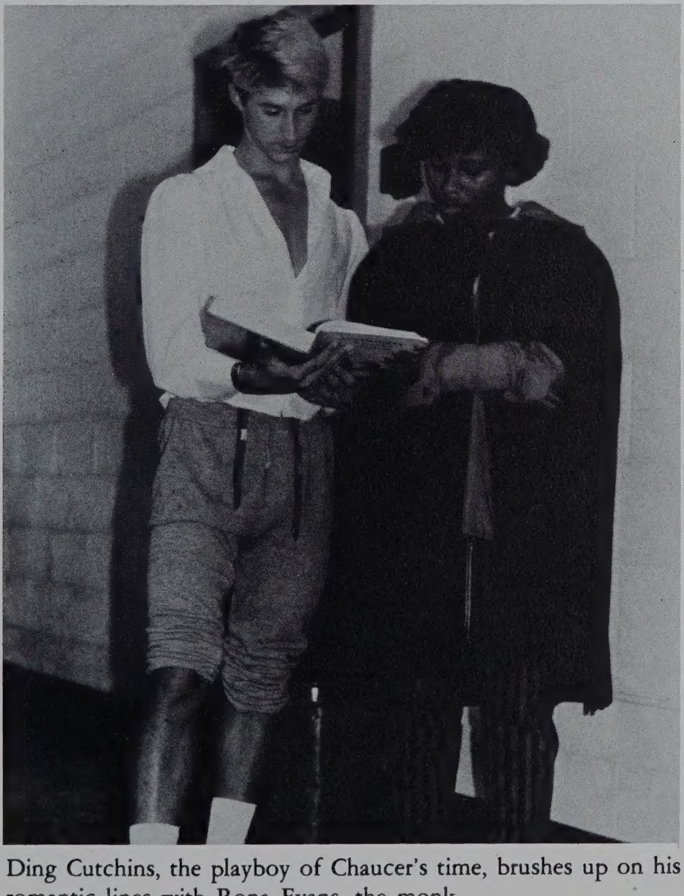


The wart with the red hairs is a symbol of the inner ugliness of the Miller. Deanna Harrell, who led the group out of town playing bagpipes.

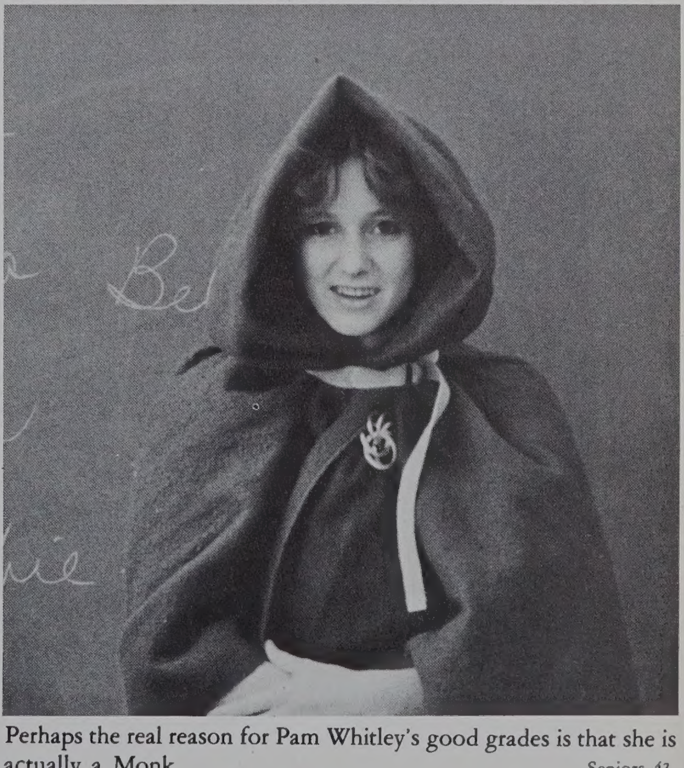
Jesse Warrick, the Monk, does not carry the somber look of one who spends his days in the monastery studying and translating books.



The Friar who spent his time in the taverns rather than ministering to the sick and the poor is none other than Michael Scruggs.



Ding Cutchins, the playboy of Chaucer's time, brushes up on his romantic lines with Rona Evans, the monk.



Perhaps the real reason for Pam Whitley's good grades is that she is actually a Monk.

ANCHORS AWAY

With the clapping of hands and the cheer of spirited students, Homecoming 1984 began. The annual Homecoming pep rally quickly had the student body wound up and ready to go for a day to remember.

After the pep rally, preparations on floats and other decorations began. Dedicated students could be found all over school hard at work on some related activity.

Time passed quickly and soon all floats and representatives were lined up and ready to start the parade. If you weren't excited by that point of the day, it was almost impossible not to be after the parade. It's always been said "Parades draw crowds" and we experienced this saying firs hand. The parad ended in the football field and nov it was just a matte of time before "th Big Night!"

As soon as th football game began and even before, you could te it was Homecoming at Cradoc High. The stadiu was brightly decorated and the ai filled with cheer of excited onlookers.

Once half-tim came the field wa aglow with multicolored floats an class representatives dressed i their flowin gowns or tuxedos The ceremony wa graceful and slee with all eyes glue on it. Terri Rodgers was crowne Queen with Malcom Gatlin at he side as King.

The Junior Class of '85 took on the project of the 1984 prom under the careful and patient guidance of Mrs. Marie Callo and Miss Geraldine Adams. Preparing for the prom was an all year project. Money-making projects included the selling of magazines and candy by the junior class and the very successful Homecoming Dance.

The Prom Committee consisted of Mary Beth Gray as chairperson and her committee members were: Monica Bullock, Kesia Carver, Gidget Cline, Cindy Forehand, Monica Long, Todd Ridgeway, Terri Rodgers, Martine Savage, Charles Shiftlett, Betty Spence, Bobbie Tanner, Robin Warren, Jesse Warrick, Sonya West, Terri Whitehead, Michelle Wooten.

The committee chose "Sweet Dreams" as the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom. Mrs. Platt and her art students worked diligently on the decorative props. As the week of the prom approached, Mrs. Callo, Miss Adams, and the juniors were busy completing preparations for the prom. Excitement grew all week long and by Friday everyone was full of anticipation. The early dismissal list was a mile long with the girls and guys making last minute hair appointments and shopping trips.

Saturday, May 5th finally arrived and the Elks Lodge was aglow with festive decorations. Everyone danced to the beat of Toppz. Tony Jones and Sandra Herron were elected by the Junior Class as Prom King and Prom Queen.

On behalf of the Junior and Senior classes, a big thanks to Mrs. Marie Callo and Miss Geraldine Adams on a job well done!

The Classic Class Of 1986

The Junior Class was under the leadership of Mrs. Marie Callo. At the onset of the school year they began preparing for their year long project, the Junior-Senior Prom. They raised money at the very successful Homecoming Dance. Their next money making project was selling jewelry. This was a very profitable project.

It was the year the Juniors had been looking forward to for a long time, the ordering of class rings. At the ring ceremony held in the auditorium in December, the juniors received their rings and thus began the tradition of turning each other's ring 85 times. The 86th time will be saved for a very special evening — graduation.

This was also the year to begin preparing for the future. The College Fair was held in the fall at Scope for students in the Tidewater area to explore and inquire about colleges throughout the United States. Many junior took PSAT's — Preliminary College Boards. Wow were they tough!!

Many juniors excelled among their classmates. Belinda McDowell was selected to represent her school as Miss Cradock, 1984. Bobbie Mason and Wayne Snead were chosen as junior representatives for Homecoming. Angelique Wilson was selected as Class President, Belinda McDowell as secretary, Cheryl King as Vice-President, and Shane Brooks as Treasurer. Melanie and Chris Quesenberry were selected by the faculty and administration as Cradock's representatives to Governor's School. Congratulations!

It has been a long road marked by many study hours, homework, and pop quizzes. The long awaited senior year is close at hand. The culmination of all their efforts and goals of their senior year is but a short step away.

Junior Class Officers — Shane Brooks — Treasurer, Angelique Wilson — President, Cheryl King — Vice President, Belinda McDowell — Secretary.

Junior Representatives — Wayne Snead, Bobbi Mason.

Cradock's Line-Up

"Does this look like the face of a sophomore?"

The Sophomore class is more than halfway through their high school days. They have made many accomplishments along the way and have vast opportunities yet to explore. They began the year by selecting two of their outstanding peers, Antionette White and Gary Jones to represent their mighty class of 1987 in Homecoming 84. Their school spirit shone through at all of the pep rallies especially rooting on their star football player, Almondo Ward.

This is their last year of Health and Physical Education — finally. It is at this point in their life they must mature a great deal because they now have the responsibility of driving — a real challenge. No more double dates with big brother or sister — alone at last! Many Sophomores also began their working career this year, a definite step toward adulthood. This Sophomore class can be proud of their many accomplishments.

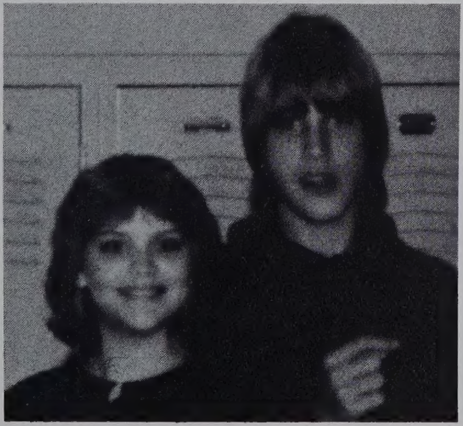
Friends forever!

The Class of 1988 started the year out by electing Holly Lowrence and Troy Waters to represent them in Homecoming. This class finally has an official title — the freshmen class. Now its their turn to begin making their way to the top — three more years to go! They follow very closely behind the upper three classes, not only as a great source of academic standards but as a standard in measuring all aspects of their high school careers, some of which are freshman participation in sports, extracurricular activities, and potential membership in the school's honor society. This class has alot of hard work ahead of them, but they anxiously await these challenges and accomplishments.



"We ought to be in pictures!"

Proudly Presents The Class Of 1989

Say "Cheese!"

The Eighth Grade class has four years of high school to look forward to. They began taking courses to prepare for graduation. They have two diplomas to select from: twenty credits would give students an academic-diploma, and twenty-two credits would give them an achieved diploma. Students must decide at this point of their career which path to explore.

The class of 1989 actively participated in all of Cradock's activities. Danielle Jenkins and Anthony Wilson represented the class in Homecoming '84. They cheered the athletic teams on during pep rallies and sporting events. Along with their devotion to Cradock High School, they took alot of kidding from upperclassmen. They've taken it well — wait 'til they rule the nest!!!!

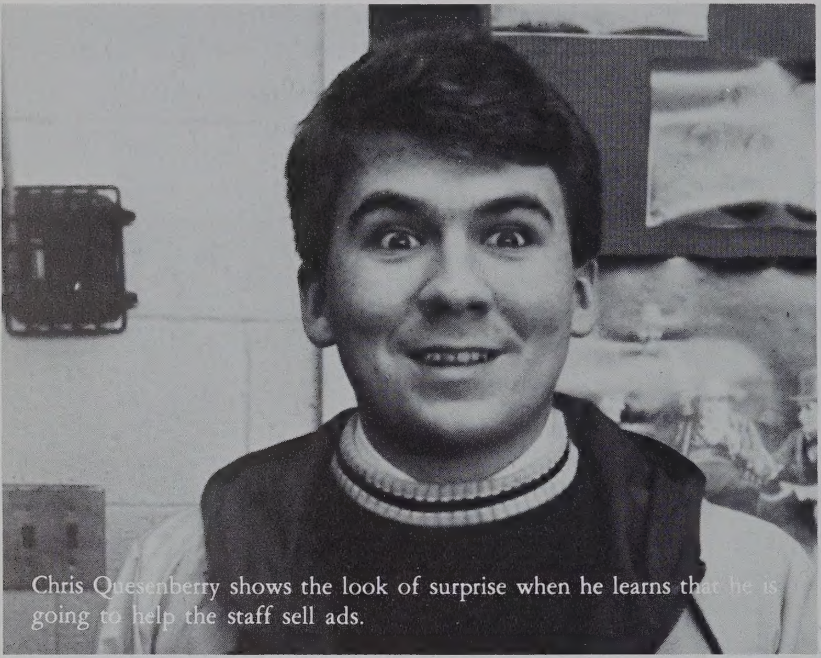
The 1984-1985



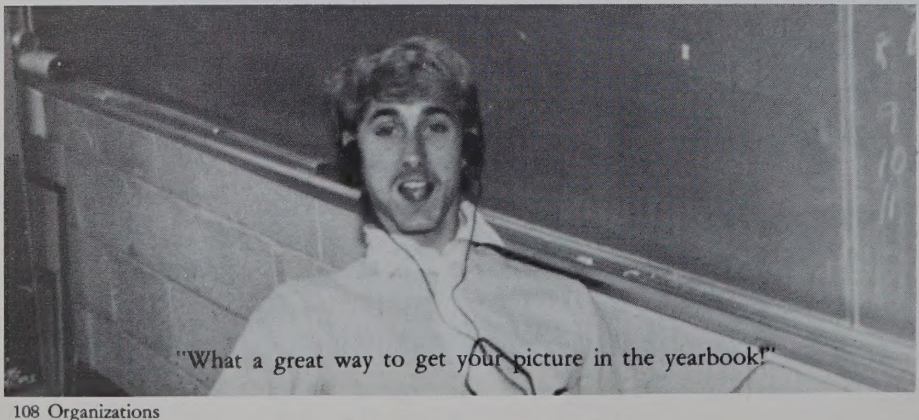
Chris Quesenberry shows the look of surprise when he learns that he is going to help the staff sell ads.

Mrs. Trueblood

The dedicated staff of the 1985 Admiral worked long and hard to make this year's annual a success. By selling more than three times the number of ads sold last year, they were able to include color in the yearbook.

The staff was headed by its sponser, Mrs. Trueblood and its editor, Tammie

Seniors on the staff: "Ding" Cutchins, Tammie Dail, Cliff Franke, Ernestine Lawrence, and Angela Martin.



"What a great way to get your picture in the yearbook!"

Student Cooperative Association

An Integral Part

One of the most important organizations at Cradock High School is the Student Cooperative Association, better known as the S.C.A. The main responsibility of the Student Council is to organize activities which promote school spirit and strengthen relations between the school and community.

During football season, the S.C.A. sponsors Spirit Week and is responsible for the Homecoming Parade and the decoration of the stadium for the Homecoming Game. At Christmas, the Student Concil has its annual Children's Christmas party for the underprivelaged children in the Portsmouth area. In the Spring, the Miss Cradock Pageant is produced by the S.C.A. and in May, the S.C.A. sponsors the annual academic awards assembly. Besides giving several dances during the year, the S.C.A. is the driving force behind many other student functions. It is sponsored by Mr. A.B. Fane.

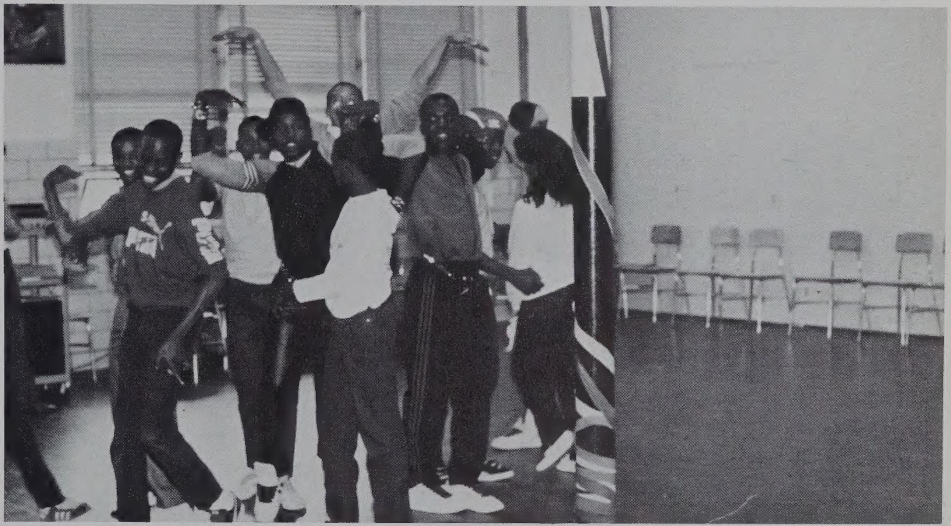
Cradock Students Get Into

Each December, the S.C.A. holds a Christmas party for the less fortunate children of our community. Clubs, homerooms, and classes willingly participate and help support this worthwhile event. Students anxiously shop for the "right" gifts that will bring a smile to the children's faces when they open them.

The Swing Of Christmas

Cradock students love to dress up as clowns and Santa's helpers to add a touch of excitement to the party. The highlight of the afternoon is the surprise visit from Santa Claus!

The community and the children's families greatly appreciate the hard work and generosity of the S.C.A. and Cradock students.



Social Studies Club

The Social Studies Club is one of the most interesting clubs at Cradock High School. The members of the club discuss the national and local events that shape our nation. They do many projects that are beneficial to the community. They plan trips that are intellectually stimulating. Club members: PRESIDENT — David Faulkner, VICE PRESIDENT — John Shuler, SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY — Todd Ridgeway, Mary Beth Gray — member.

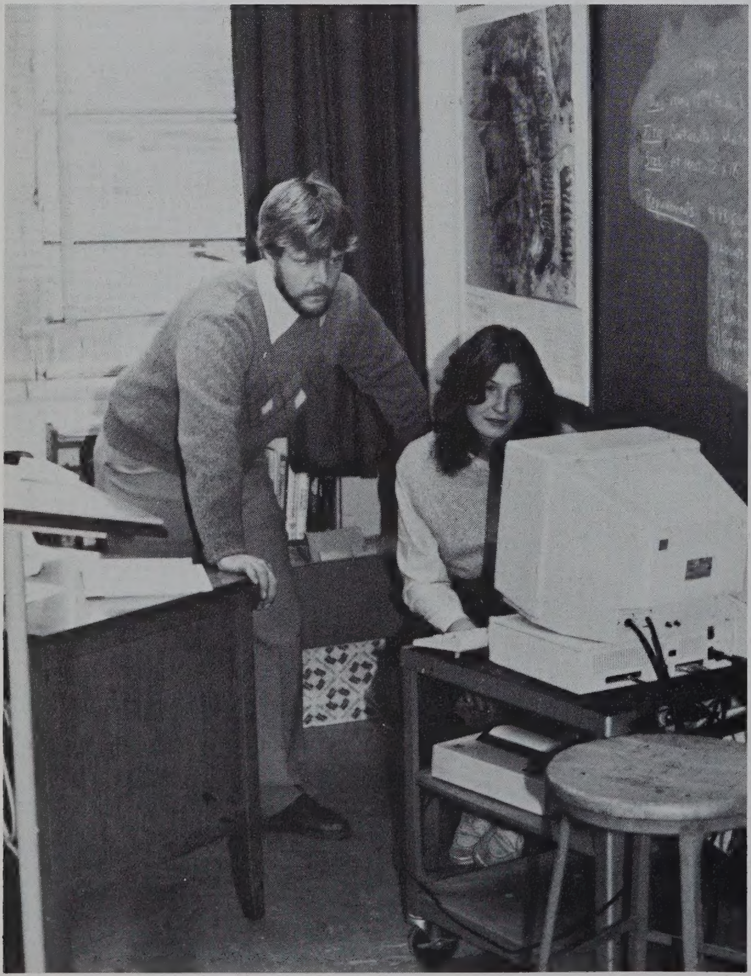
Economics



Coach Johnson shows Tammie Dail how to operate a computer.

The Economics Class is a preparation for young adults who want to pursue a business career or any student wishing to learn how world money markets operate. This year's class took place in a Junior Achievement Company composed of the class members and its name was Tritherm. The company produced and sold a product just like any corporation would. The corporation produced by hand, thermometers. The students managed and kept the company in order with limited outside help. The class took a field trip to the Ford Motor Plant to find our an assembly line operated. The class was very interesting, informative and important in the business world today. The class is taught by Coach Scott Johnson.

Cradock High School's chorus was very active this year. Within a month of being in school, they performed our national anthem at the Homecoming pep-rally and game. Soon after they were practicing for the annual Christmas program which they performed for the PTA and the student body. In early December, the singing Admirals sang at the Retirement Luncheon. On February 5th, the singing Admirals were invited to sing at the annual Prayer Breakfast for the city of Portsmouth at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard. In March, the Choral Department presented the production of "In Search of the Perfect Song". But none of these achievements would have been possible without the patience and understanding of Miss Kathleen Murphy. We thank her and the Choral Department for their fine entertainment this year.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a national honorary club open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have been outstanding in leadership, scholarship, and character. A 3.0 average is required for membership. These high standards must be maintained after induction. This group has been very active in cooperating for the betterment of the school. It has participated in a tutoring program at the Wilson High School working with students from foreign countries who are learning English. The National Honor Society raises money, through candy sales, for scholarships. Each member must complete a group and individual project. This honorary organization is led by Ms. Kathleen Wheaton.

CRADOCK

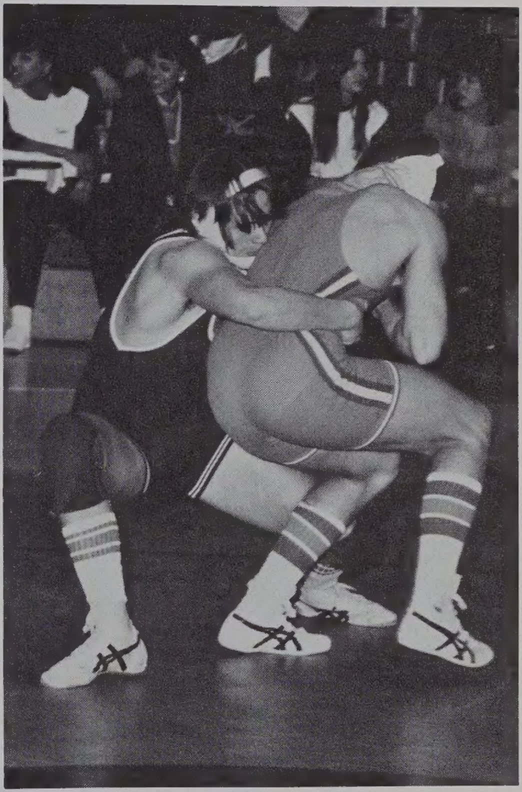
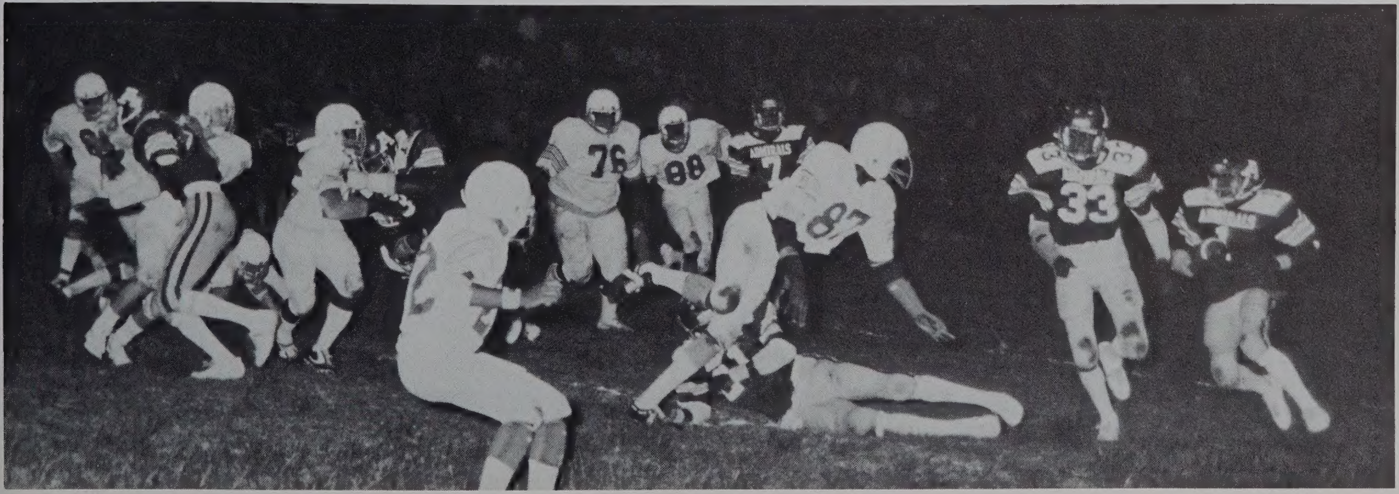
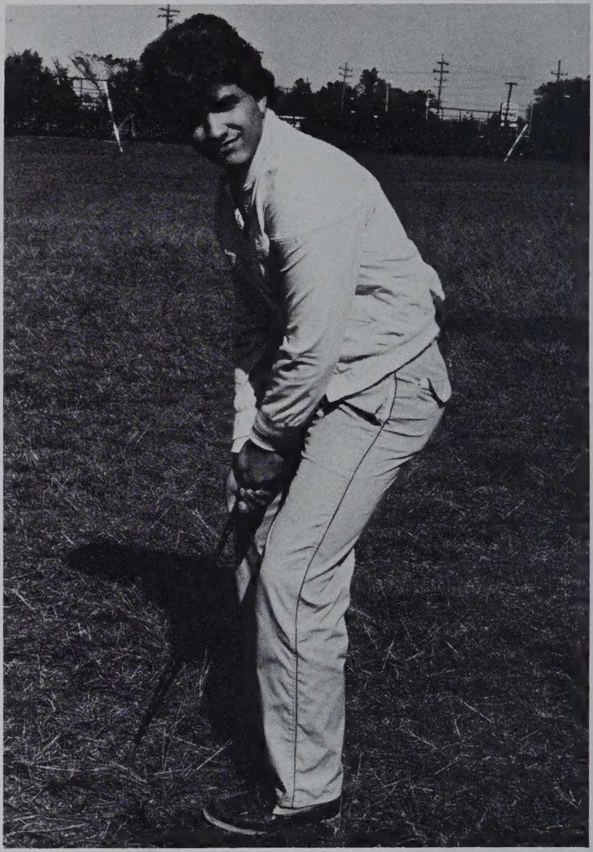
Athletes, especially Cradock athletes, have proven time and time again that great bodies come with great minds!!! All athletes must carry a 2.0 average to remain on a sports team. With this requirement, students learn to excel in all aspects of life — academics, atheletics, and leadership. This combination creates well-rounded individuals.





"84" Golf Team



Andy proves the sun doesn't help your putting game.

THE ADMIRALS GOLF TEAM started the season with four players — Donald Clapper, Steve Vernon both juniors, and David Faulkner and Cliff Franke, seniors. While midway through the season another senior, Andy Newbern, was picked up. Even though the team consisted of mainly upper classmen, the team lacked experience. Although winning only three matches all year and finishing last in the district tournament, the juniors on the team gained the experience needed to be a district contender next year, thanks largely in part to Coach Mac Carroll.

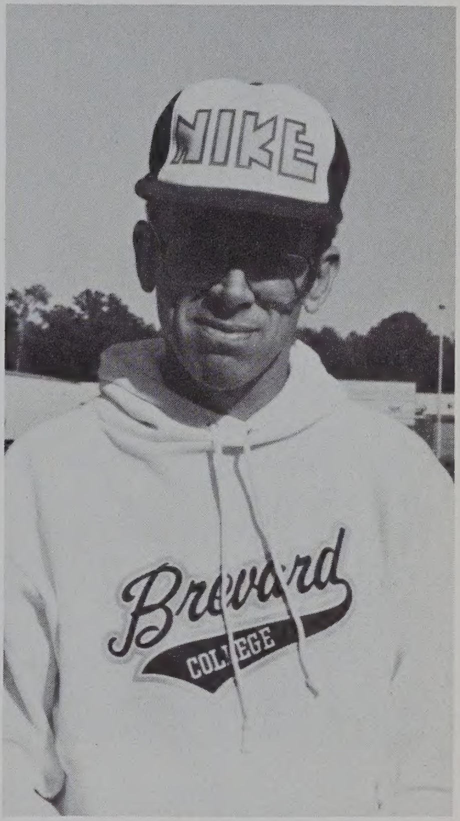
Looking Forward To The Future



Coach Clarence Brown

The fall sports schedule consisted of football, golf, and cross country. Out of these three, cross country is the most vigorating. This year, Coach Brown, a marathon runner himself from Western Branch, came to Cradock to teach the skills of running to three freshmen, two juniors, and two seniors. Pracitces lasted up to one hour to one hour and a half. The team ran up to six miles per day. By the day of the meets the team was fit and ready for the gruesome, non-stop, 3.2 mile run through Churchland Park. The Admiral Cross Country team faced opponents such as Wilson, Churchland, Great Bridge, Western Branch, and Indian River. The most memorable meet was the City Meet in which all of the runners in the City of Porstmouth competed leg to leg. Over 40 runners competed and awards were given to the top fifteen finishers. From Cradock, there were four who placed — Mike Shuler, Donald Clapper, Todd Ridgway, and Ronald (Ding) Cutchins. The year finished up once more at Churchland Park in the District Meet in which all of the schools' runners from Porstmouth and Chesapeake competed in the 3.2 mile run. The team learned many things during the year. Although their Coach worked them to death, the team would like to say Thanks! to Coach Brown and all he has done for this years team.

For Varsity Competition

Injury prevention begins with calisthenics.

The 1984-1985 season was a year of rebuilding. Many of last year's junior varsity players moved up to play varsity ball. Coach Tommy Kilpatrick started from scratch and worked with many new players. Although the junior varsity Admirals scored low in points, they ranked high in determination, endurance, and sportsmanship. They met every game with force and optimism, supported by the enthusiastic junior varsity cheerleaders and fans. Culminating the Admiral's football season was the fight against Western Branch. Throughout a trying season, Cradock maintained a perfect record of quality sportsmanship.

Varsity cheerleaders (seniors)

Long before school started, the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders began practicing for the upcoming sporting events. They made posters, sold ads for the football programs, cheered and sold pendants for our athletic program.

The senior class elected Ding Cutchins as this year's "Admiral." He cheered alongside the girls throughout the football and basketball seasons.

Working hard all year by these young ladies helped promote school spirit at Cradock High. They were under the leadership of Mrs. Dorri Auten (varsity) and Ms. Kathleen Murphy (junior varsity).

J.V. cheerleaders spread their spirit widely.

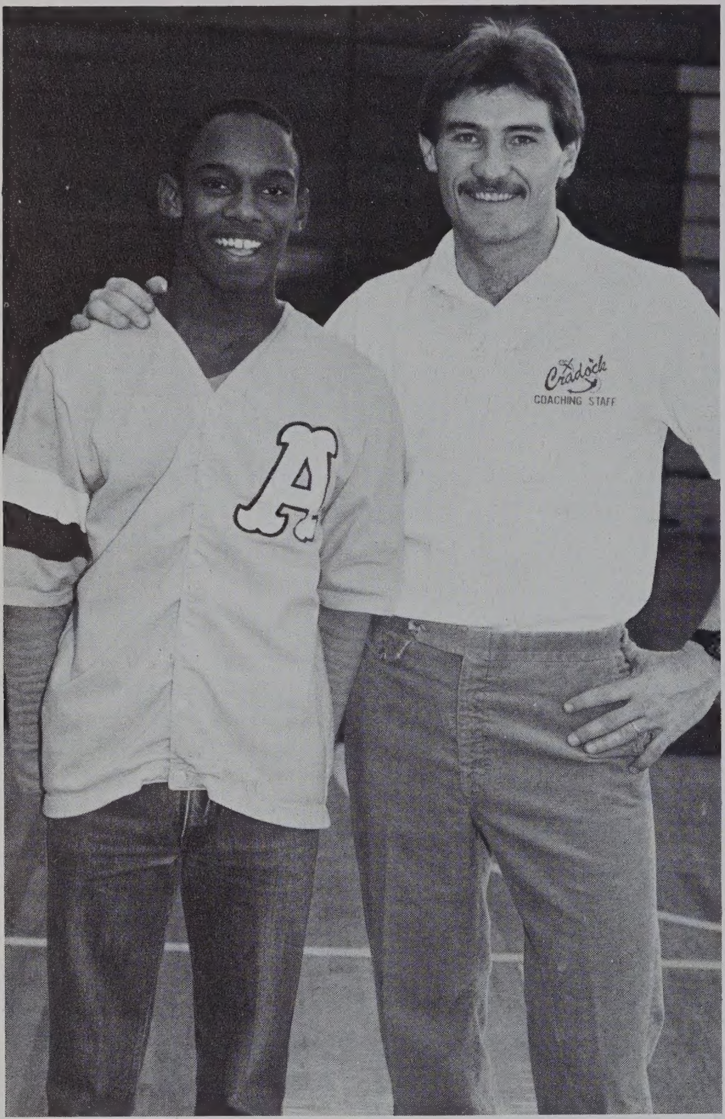
Basketball Coaching At Its Best



Coach Carrol and his "main" man, Clyde McDaniel.

Our Varsity Basketball team finished the season in 4th place in the race for the Southeastern District title. Our winning record showed us 5-4 in the district and 11-9 over all.

The admirals were led by Senior Center Johnny Shackley, Senior Guards, Dennis White and Freddie Horton and Senior Forward Keith Freeman. We will miss the services of these players next year as they contributed tremendously to the program.

Bright Future Ahead . . .

Even though we lost 4 district games and 9 over-all, we were clearly in every ball game, with the exception of one or two. This was great experience for our younger players. Returning next season to pick up where we left off are Juniors, Curtis Coles, Bryan Griffen, Dwayne Banks, and Vincent Williams. Also two Sophomores will be back and will be called upon for the next two years. Ronnie Mills started at the Point Guard position for most of the season and is clearly one of the top guards in the district. Daron Coltrane is a 6'4" sophomore who has vastly improved since the beginning of the season and is working at becoming a top player.

The Admirals participated in the Portsmouth Catholic Christmas Tournament. The Admirals won the tournament by defeating Churchland the opening night by two points and Portsmouth Catholic in the championship by twelve points. Seniors Freddie Horton and Johnny Shackley were named to the All-Tournament Team and Freddie was also named the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

The girls varsity basketball team started out a new season with a new coach, Scott Johnson. It was a year of rebuilding for the team. Coach Johnson began the season early in November with hard, vigorous practices. This hard work was reflected in their performance on the court. Though not a victorious season for the Lady Admirals, they gained much experience and are looking forward to next year's season. They have intramural practices scheduled in hopes of preparing for their emergence as the number 1 team for the '85-'86 season.

The leading scorers for the Lady Admirals were Melvette Bellamy with a total of 180 points, Lynette Mitchell with 81 points, and Angelique Wilson with 58 points. Lynette Wilson was selected as the Most Valuable Senior.

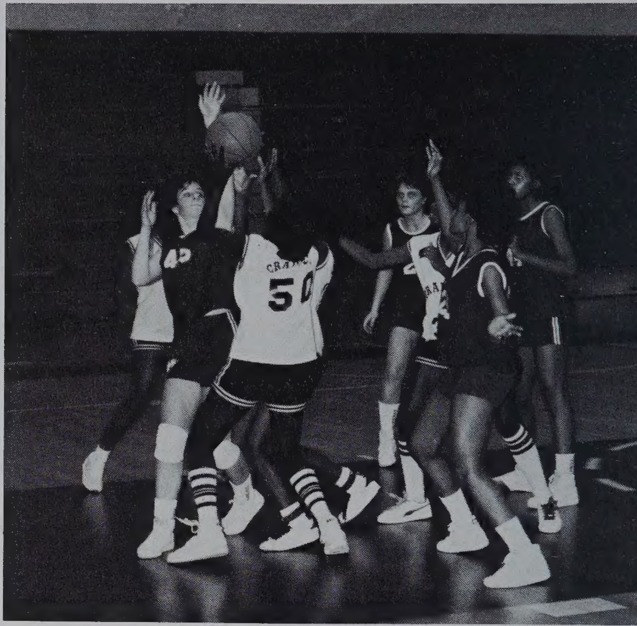
J.V. Girls — Promising Future



Early in November the J.V. lady admirals began practicing for the season. They enjoyed a fairly successful season with six wins and seven losses. They were under the leadership of Mrs. Gatling. The admiral's high scorers were Kim Grant who averaged sixteen points a game and Michelle Stokes whose average was ten points a game.

Although much of the admiral's talent will move up to varsity, the coaching staff is looking forward to a strong team next year.

Matgirls Cheer On Wrestling Team

The Matgirls are a group of girls who give up alot of their free time to lend a helping hand to the wrestling team. They keep score at the matches, keep track of the wrestlers' workouts, help with fundraising, and give alot of moral support and cheer. This year's girls were Susan Posey, Barbara Britt, Robin Warren, Cherrie Bell, Mary Sieber, Vellette Davis, Christina Jordan, and Melinda Upton.

The Varsity team was young with ten first year lettermen and only one senior. Jesse Warrick, the only senior, had a record of four wins and ten losses. The team record was two wins and nine losses. Outstanding wrestlers were Sam Shannon (4-5), Joey Quattlebaum (3-9), Carl Winckler (5-6), and Alfred Mayfield (13-2-1).

In the District tournament, the young Admirals did better than the coache's had thought with Joey Quattlebaum's sixth place and Carl Winckler's fifth place finish. Alfred Mayfield qualified for the Regional Tournament with a second place finish. Cradock's wrestling future does look brighter.

The Cradock High School Varsty Baseball Team was a district contender in '85. In the past two years, the team had finished in the top five. The reason for the good finish in the past two years has been a great defense. Among the returning players were two Juniors, Jimmy Gorrell and Mike Simmons and four Seniors, Donne Jones, Ding Cutchins, Johnny Shackley, Cliff Franke. They were this years Tri-Captains.

Pitching was a struggle this year but Coach Kilpatrick said hitting and defense kept the team in contention this season.

At the time of this writing, the entire team had not been selected.

Practice makes perfect

There was a new face on the J.V. baseball field this spring. He was Coach David Moss. He came to Cradock this fall from Wilson High School. He volunteered to tackle the job of organizing and coaching the Admirals. Being new on the job, Coach Moss couldn't predict the outcome of the oncoming season but was looking forward to the challenge. At the time of this writing, the entire team had not been picked.

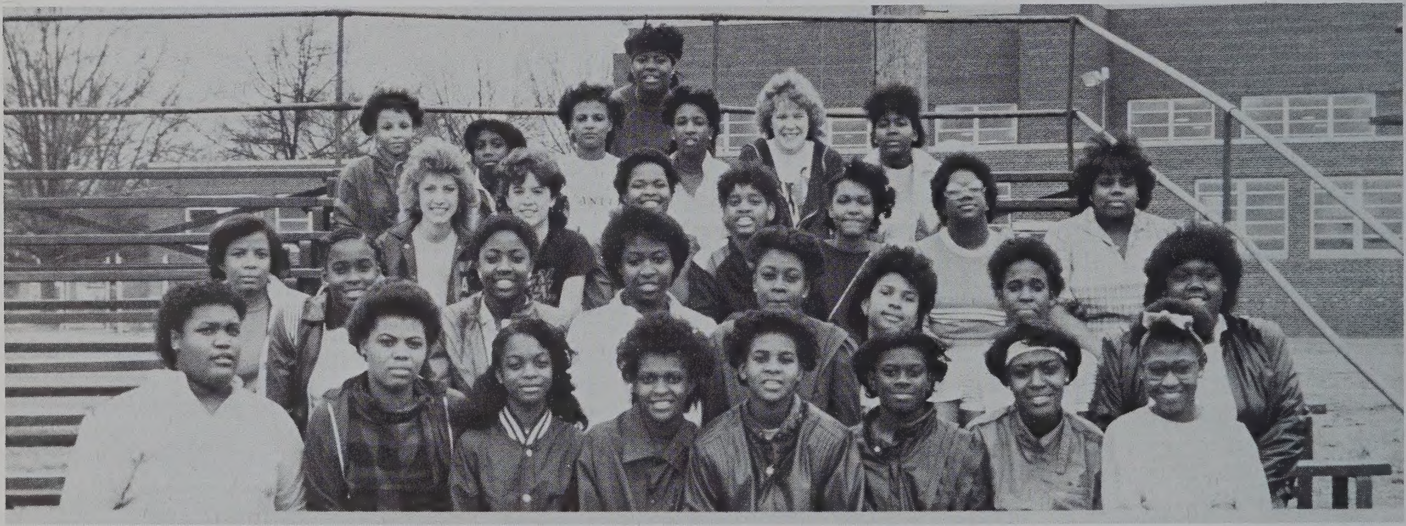
Rowena Barber practices jumping the hurdles.

The girl's track team was led by Mrs. Lottie Short. Coach Short was pleased with the large turnout of students and the many returning members from last year's team. She is looking forward to a successful season and hopes that with the many returning members, the team's experience will place them as top contenders for the district title.



ROW 1: Tacenda Simmons, Sherri Munford, Rowena Barber, Crystal Sampson, Eugenia Hardy, Paula Copes, Melvette Bellamy, Veronica Burney. Coach Brown put a great deal of stamina and determination into this year's track team. He emphasized the necessity of long hours of practice to develop techniques for a meet. Returning members to this year's team were: sprinters D. Jones, T. Ward, W. Savage, long distance runner C. McDaniel, hurdlers J. Mathis, and M. Smith, and shot putter, A. Mayfield. At the time of this writing, the entire team had not been picked.

Softball And Tennis

The Girls Varsity Softball Team is looking forward to a very successful season this year. Returning seniors are first baseman Brenda Ganzenmueller, second baseman Angie Dorsey, and centerfielder Brenda Walker. Returning Juniors are pitcher Robin Gray, and catcher Anne Newkirk. The new players, combined with the returners, are working for a winning season. The team is coached by Mrs. Dorri Auten.

After Hours

Robert says, "I'm the money man making the bread."

Bagging is easier with two.

Mike is thinking size is no object.

Lots of school kids complain that six or seven hours of school is too much work. But to alot of students at Cradock, these hours are only the beginning. After the last bell rings, these students head to their after-school jobs. Some might wonder why they put themselves through that kind of torture. Well, there are several reasons.

One of the most important reasons is the extra spending money an after-school job offers. If you have a job, you're able to do the things you enjoy. Also, you won't have to keep running to Mom and Dad for money.

Although the extra money sounds exciting, one should remember that a lot of hard work is involved. The students who work have to rearrange their time in order to complete their homework.

Eddie's been working so hard he's going bananas.

Who Cares? . . .

So you've been going to Cradock for two or three years and you "think" you know everything about the school. Thats a pretty big claim. Heres' your chance to prove yourself. Below are ten questions. Try to answer them. The answers are upside down next to them. Remember — don't cheat.

1. Whats' the number of books in the library?
2. Whats' the number of cinderblocks in the office's walls?
3. What is the height of the anchor?
4. How many windows are in Cradock?
5. How many clocks are in Cradock?
6. How many steps are in Cradocks stairways?
7. How many classrooms which have no windows?
8. What is the Height of a classroom?
9. How long does each bell ring?
10. Whats' the number of married faculty members?

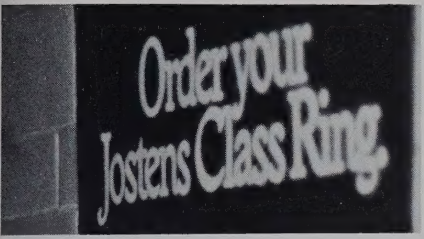
A Proud Moment



Food — lets eat!!!

Each year the Junior Class holds a ring ceremony for the juniors that are receiving their class rings. After they receive their rings, the juniors are served refreshments. A representative from Jostens talks to the students about the tradition of class rings. The rest of the ceremony is spent with everyone turning each others rings, which is an example of one of the traditions of the ring. Receiving your class ring is a special moment, one that every junior will cherish.

Mr. Hale congratulates Elizabeth.

A Dream Come True

A group of Japanese educators visited the U.S. in the fall to evaluate the American school system. Noriko translated for Mr. Hale.

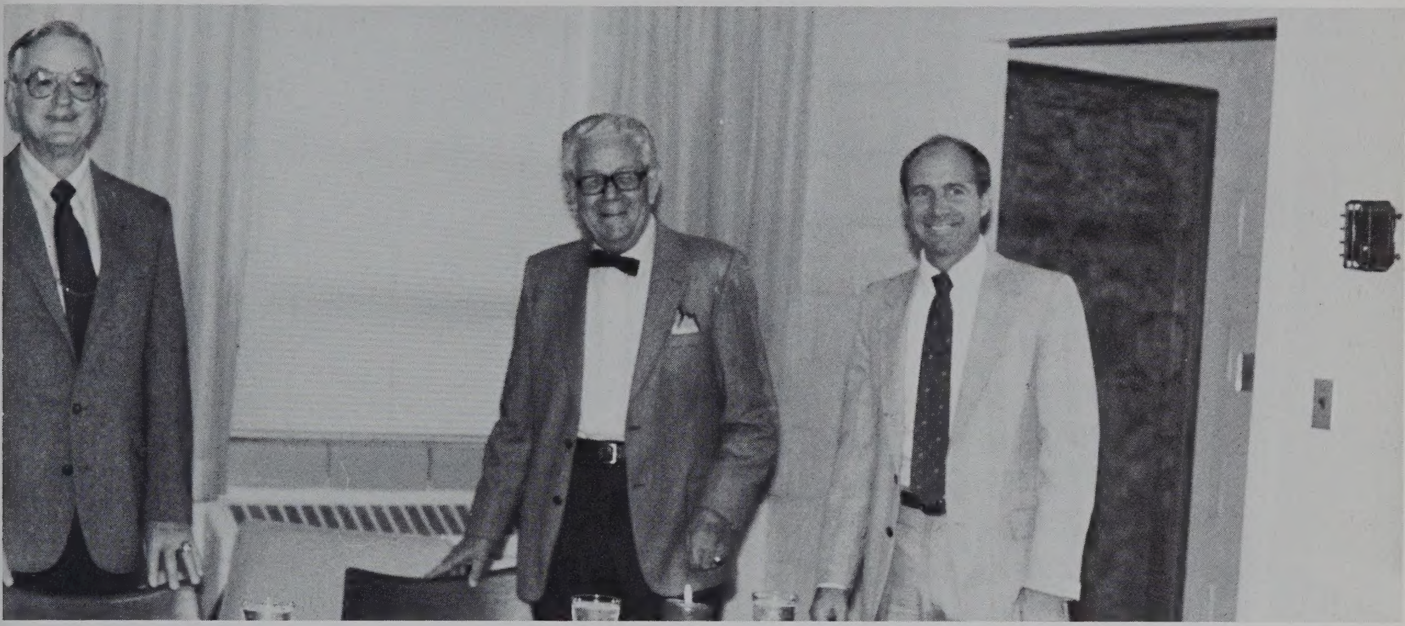
Imagine living in another country, with a native family, speaking the language, learning the culture, and going to school in a completely different educational setting.

That's what Noriko Kato did this year. Hailing from Kanagawa, Japan, foreign exchange student Noriko Kato came to the United States to learn how to speak English and learn U.S. customs. Here at Cradock, Noriko finds school life much different than that in Japan. The first thing she did upon arriving here was to have her hair permed, something that is against the regulations in Japan. In Japan, she goes to school six days a week but she says that the days are shorter than here. Japanese have much more work to do in school and have much more homework.

Finding things to do is not hard to do for Noriko, since it always takes a while for her to do her homework. She likes to read, eat American food and write letters home. She also likes to go places with her American friends, who she says are much friendlier than people she knows back home. When asked about her plans for the future, she said that she wanted to be an airline stewardess. Life for Noriko in America has been great, and she has every intention of coming back here someday.

Cradock students help Noriko adjust to American life.

American Education Week



Former and present administrators smile for a picture — Mr. J.W. Gray, Mr. J.J. Booker, and Mr. R.A. Hale

The annual retirement luncheon was held in December of this year to honor retired Cradock administration and faculty members. It was hosted by the American Education Committee in the newly decorated Home Economics Lounge. The room was decorated with festive holiday decorations. A special thanks to Mrs. Carole Platt for organizing this special occasion and to Mrs. Katherine Hammer and her catering class for preparing such a delicious meal! It was a joyous welcoming back to Cradock's former employees.

Mrs. Carole Platt welcomes everyone to the luncheon.

Everyone mingles and catches up on each other's activities before lunch.

Seniors vs. Faculty

Senior girls volleyball team.

"We'll settle this after graduation!"

On Thursday, November 29th, the women faculty and Senior girls battled it out over volleyball supremacy. The war continued through 3 games when the teachers defeated the students, 2 games to 1, to continue their streak as

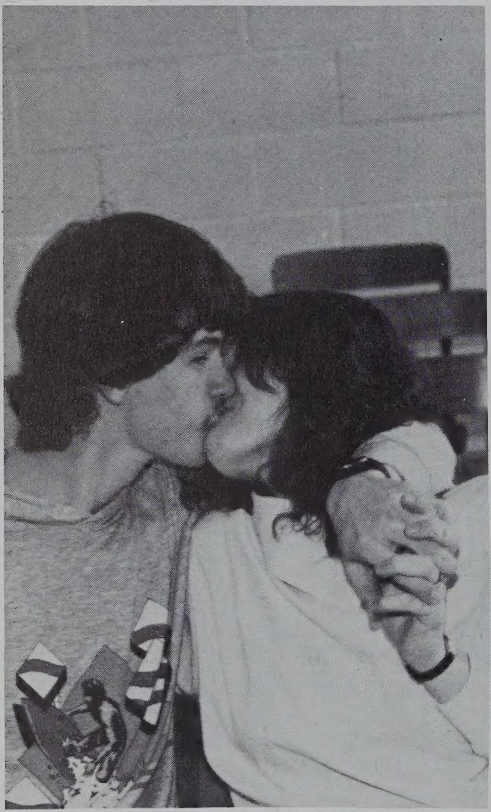
Memories



CRADOCK HIGH SCHOOL
ALMA MATER

We raise our voices now to greet thee,
Our school, our Cradock High;
Many thoughts are ever with thee,
To remain and never die.
Days of value always linger
In memories long gone by;
Our love for you grows ever deeper,
As we strive for goals so high.

Once again we stop to greet thee,
March onward, Cradock High
It is to you we give the glory
Of all the things we try.
We count it gain that we have known
thee,
And as the years go by,
Your Spirit will remain within us,
Our unconquered CRADOCK HIGH!

IT PAYS TO GO TO SCHOOL IN THE NAVY.

Go to school in the Navy and let us foot the bill. The Advanced Technical Field program lets you choose top Navy training at any one of seven Navy technical schools. Become an expert in automatic propulsion and combustion control, at the heart of ship operation. Or study advanced electronics or communications. We offer the opportunity for intensive study in critical areas requiring special skills that will keep you in demand in or out of the Navy. Earn more to start than regular enlistees and advance faster once your schooling is completed. We need qualified men and women. See your local Navy recruiter for full details.

THE NAVY. IT'S NOT JUST A JOB, IT'S AN ADVENTURE.
